BROWARD COLLEGE
WHAT IS AN INTERNSHIP?

A high-quality internship is a paid, pre-professional learning experience which offers meaningful, practical work experience related to a student’s field of study or career interest and a chance to learn new skills.

Research shows that 85 percent of companies use internships and similar experiential education programs to recruit for their full-time workforce.

Career/Internship Fairs

Campuses host career fairs multiple times throughout the year. Career fairs are great ways to meet potential candidates face-to-face, review résumés, and hold on-site interviews. The cost for employers to attend varies for each institution. The benefits of pre-screening and even hiring multiple qualified candidates returns a positive ROI.

Information Sessions

Presenting on-campus is a convenient way for students to learn about your organization’s internship and full-time positions. Info sessions provide the opportunity to introduce students to your organization, expose them to your brand, and inform them of open positions.

Social Media

Social media and instant messaging have changed the way students communicate and search for jobs. Inboxes are inundated and traditional recruiter emails can be overlooked. Leveraging online platforms like Twitter and LinkedIn is imperative for recruiting students.

Career Centers

An effective way to connect with potential student interns is to work directly with career services offices at colleges and universities. CareerSource Broward is an excellent resource for recruitment, and offers employers services free of charge. To post internship opportunities, visit: www.employflorida.com

The mind is a complicated thing. The mind of an entrepreneur is even more complicated. I recently wrote about vision, and how it paints a picture in your mind. Being a visionary, as we describe it in the entrepreneurship world, is different. In my view, it is more about having the discipline and urgency of execution. That is so because anybody can have a vision, anyone can imagine a desired future. But that does not make them visionaries. In fact, imagination can develop into an ugly weed in your vision garden.

For imagination to develop into a successfully carried out entrepreneurial vision, fear must be kept in check. That is why the present is so important, when pursuing an entrepreneurial endeavor. Fear comes from the future. It is magnified by imagination. For creative minds, this dynamic can be crippling. I have seen it in young aspiring entrepreneurs. When afraid of a task to move execution forward on their vision, these entrepreneurs should not delay facing their fears. The longer the delay, the harder the task will become. Imagination can mount you on the saddle of the prettiest horse on a never stopping carousel with enthralling lights and music, going around merrily in circles, forever fearful of jumping off. For everybody else standing on the ground outside, looking at you pass them by on the carousel every time you complete a turn, you have speed, but you have no velocity. It is the difference between vector and scalar quantities.

Velocity is a vector quantity. It is the rate of change in position of an object. It is the distance traveled during a certain time in a certain direction. It’s very close and many times cominglecousin is speed. Speed is a scalar quantity, meaning that it does not care about direction. As far as the parents of the children watching their kids go in front of them every few seconds on the Merry-Go-Round, they have great speed but no direction, they always return to the same place.

As an entrepreneur, be creative, but don’t fall into the imagination trap. When uncertainty drives fears from the future into your present, deal with them as quickly as you can. Do not spend time feeling paralyzed by something that has not yet happened and may not happen at all. Use the present to chart a directional course for the future, and use your time wisely now to build the skills that will help you tackle the obstacles that will certainly come your way. Open the closed but unlocked doors around you today, and keep advancing.
